CHRISTMAS ISSUE

A Christmas message from Steve Marcus

As this year draws to a close, it is appropriate to look back at our accomplishments and look forward to our future. This past year has seen our Company continue to grow, both in our number of locations and our commitment to service to our many customers and guests. We celebrated the Company's 50th Anniversary and in so celebrating, rededicated ourselves to the principles of quality, service, community responsibility and respect for our fellow employees which had made us a leader in our industry. We experienced the first Corporate Managers Meeting, where we were guided and inspired by a wealth of new ideas on how to meet the demands of the next fifty years.

Our Company faces a very bright future--we recently strengthened our Director Group by adding two members and we are embarking on upgraded programs in employee selection and training while continuing our tradition of encouraging promotion from within the various divisions. The many benefits that we enjoy as employees are under constant review to ensure that they both meet employee needs and are consistent with the necessary financial responsibilities of the Company. All these things will continue to make our Company not only a leader;

but, equally important, a Company in which all of us can share the pride of accomplishment in what it has become.

While none of us can accurately predict the general economic future, all of us can feel comfortable in the knowledge that we are affiliated with a Company that is structured to withstand the economic storms and one which is poised to enter the next fifty years both building on its past and ready to accept the challenges of the future.

Please accept the best wishes of my family and myself to you and your family for an enjoyable holiday season and a happy, safe and prosperous New Year.
